BENEFITS OF A STATEWIDE RESIDENTIAL BUILDING CODE

Benefit to State

A statewide code can reduce insurance costs across the state, as all communities may benefit from improved ISO ratings. Having a code adopted at the state level saves resources at the local level since individual communities will not have to spend time and financial resources going through a separate code review, amendment, and adoption processes. There is also increasing pressure to link federal mitigation grants and disaster assistance to the adoption of building codes. If a link was established, states with a statewide code could be eligible for more grant funding and more disaster assistance than states without a statewide code.

Benefit to Builder

Builders who work in multiple cities or counties will benefit from the consistency in requirements provided by a statewide code. When code adoption happens at the local level, a builder working in multiple communities and jurisdictions may have to comply with a patchwork of codes, code editions, and local amendments. This may lead to more plan reviews and discussions with building officials over local interpretations. A consistent set of statewide building codes may lead to more consistent enforcement across the state and fewer conflicts between builders and building officials.

Benefit to Consumer

Having one statewide code allows product manufacturers to benefit from economies of scale, as the same product or set of products will comply with the code in all parts of the state. This can result in cost savings that can be passed on to the consumer. Home buyers would have the security of knowing homes built in the state meet a widely-accepted minimum standard for construction. As new editions of a code are adopted statewide, consumers benefit from homes that can incorporate new, improved, or innovative building products, material, and methods of construction.

Alaska State
Home Building Association

INSURANCE FOR ALASKANS, BY ALASKANS.

Alaska Builders Insurance Program is an Alaska-owned general liability insurance program for licensed contractors. When Alaskans use nationwide liability insurance carriers, they pay the price because Alaskans have a much lower claim ratio. With ABIP, rates should drop as premiums grow and we continue to experience what our historic losses have been. Help build a strong Alaska by buying insurance that benefits the Alaska State Home Building

Association, your fellow contractors, and bottom line.

ABIP is underwritten by an A-rated admitted (approved for business in Alaska) insurance carrier. Only Alaskan companies are provided coverage in this program, and only members of an Alaska State Home Building Association are eligible. The program also allows policyholders and members to participate and have access to an exclusive contractual risk management program allowing additional premium discounts.

POLICY RESOLUTIONS

The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) is an active participant on Capitol Hill and in the federal regulatory process, working hard to promote housing in America. Resolutions adopted by NAHB's Leadership Council touch on key housing issues, such as removing regulatory barriers to building affordable housing, protecting property rights, providing tax relief for small businesses, promoting smart growth, and assuring the U.S. housing finance system remains strong. These resolutions inform staff and volunteer advocacy work, whether we're talking to federal legislators, writing comment letters on proposed regulations, or preparing the budget for the next fiscal year.

THE VALUE OF ADVOCACY

$7,500

Add up the dollar value of NAHB services and advocacy victories and you get an average of $7,500 per housing start for a typical home builder. That figure demonstrates just how much value NAHB delivers for members. Below are selected advocacy victories achieved in 2017 that contribute to that number.

- $1,600 Suspension of Beryllium Rule
- $1,200 Reductions in Builder Taxes
- $700 Protection of Builder Interest Deduction
- $700 Elimination of Flawed Duct Proposal
- $1,000 Preservation of Options in Building Codes

These numbers represent the value per housing start a typical builder will see in 2018 as a result of key NAHB advocacy victories achieved in 2017. Some members will experience more of these benefits than others.
